Only name lights when you need to. Multiple lights sharing the same name are cheaper than lights with separate names. light_dynamic is especially expensive, and will not even show up on some systems; The basic light entities do not come with a visible representation (e.g. a lightbulb). For that you need a prop. See HL2 light props for a list.

Each year brings new Christmas light shows, with synchronised music and wild blinking decorations to light your eyeballs ablaze. Now, many of us have dabbled in the dark arts of blinken, tinkering with LEDs or flashing a neon bulb or two. There's plenty of tutorials on how to control all manner of lights, but they're often written for novices.
